GELLER POINT OF SALE SYSTEMS

Ultra modern looks Quality construction Exceptional value

Good looking and built to last

Despite its surprisingly low cost, TS-700 is a compact, heavy duty touch screen terminal that has been built to withstand a hard life. The attractive metallic-silver die cast aluminium housing has clean minimalist lines that enhance the décor of any environment.

Durable by design for longer life

TS-700's all metal construction ensures cool running, longer component life and protection from external electronic 'noise'. Cables are recessed within the base which means no unsightly wires on view and avoids accidental cable disconnection.

Powerful Performance at an affordable price

TS-700 comes complete with Windows 98. To suit your particular business requirements, you can choose GellerTouch or Geller-Vectron Software and enjoy on-going, single-source hardware/software support. Alternatively, you can use the industry specific software of your choice.

Easy to use at the point of sale

The TS-700 touch screen leads operators simply and quickly through sales from start to finish. Even part time servers can operate the system with just a few minutes training.

Simple yet secure

TS-700 comes with magnetic touch keys as standard. Each key can be individually programmed to allow just order entry or registration of sales. Alternatively, they can be programmed to allow additional functions for management.
